2023 IMPACT REPORT

With your support, DeliverFund once again made significant strides in our mission to end human trafficking with Tech That Protects™

DELIVERFUND

LETTER FROM OUR CEO

To our donors,

What is it about our mission that motivates you to donate your hard-earned dollars to DeliverFund? This is a question I think about a lot, and one I ask donors every chance I get. A donor put it perfectly when he said:

"I support you because I believe you have the best chance of succeeding. You are playing to win."

Fighting human trafficking requires more than just tactical execution of specific tasks; it requires a long-term strategic vision. DeliverFund was launched with that strategic vision, and over the years, we have learned what works and what doesn't.

Fighting human trafficking in America suffers from a scale problem, and we have been working for years to solve it. However, we know law enforcement cannot win alone. If we want to win, we have to mobilize everyone in every community and industry and give them the tools they need to fight. Law enforcement is the tip of the spear in this fight, but all of us make up the army required to win.

In the pages below, you will see the winning strategy unfolding, and know that it is only possible because of your support. Without you, the data, technology, operational support, intelligence reports, training, or education would be impossible.

Thank you on behalf of every law enforcement officer who received the intelligence they needed, every prosecutor who had a successful prosecution, every victim who got their first night's sleep free from exploitation, and the DeliverFund team and board of directors.

Will you continue to support our mission?

I sure hope so, because you have made a tremendous difference so far.

In HIS service, and at yours,

Nic McKinley
CEO & Founder, DeliverFund

DELIVERFUND

EQUIPPING THE FORCE WITH DATA AND TECH

Data, AI algorithms, and supercomputers are technologies you may hear about in the news often, but did you know they are critical weapons in the fight against human trafficking? These tools give us a unique advantage over traffickers. Initially, when we started DeliverFund, we had only one laptop, and our CEO manually collected all the data. However, today, thanks to the generosity of DeliverFund's donors and the ingenuity of the DeliverFund team, we have two supercomputers running algorithms that collect more data in an hour than we collected in the first five years of our operations. This enormous amount of data allows us to not only find traffickers faster but also control our costs and invest in the sustainability of our mission. In short, we are now able to find traffickers and facilitate law enforcement operations better, faster, and more efficiently than ever before.

Data is the fuel that powers the counter-human trafficking engine, and this year, we boosted our collection efforts significantly, resulting in a 467% increase in data collection and processing. Previously, human traffickers could advertise their victims online, and once their victims were booked for the day, they would remove those advertisements before they could be detected. But that is not the case anymore. Our collectors at DeliverFund are running at a rate that makes it nearly impossible for the traffickers to avoid detection.

TOTAL DATA POINTS AS OF DECEMBER 2023:

3,774,811,587

So how do we do it? (Tech-speak warning!) At DeliverFund, we use a custom, redundant, in-house High-Performance Computing (HPC) framework optimized for the daily scouring of tens of thousands of web properties to collect vast amounts of data that can be used to detect human trafficking. We use advanced algorithms, real-time data processing, and NoSQL databases like OpenSearch to manage over 4 billion unique, fully versioned data points. By using cutting-edge technology, including AI, we're committed to fighting human trafficking and providing critical insights to first responders.

In short, AI has dramatically shaped how we've approached technology at DeliverFund, and we are using the latest AI technologies as weapons against human traffickers.

REDLIGHT DATA

Our Redlight dataset currently consists of millions of online advertisements where human trafficking victims are advertised.

With our improved hardware, we are able to collect millions of new advertisements weekly. Gain access to this information with the HT Safeguard app.

HT WATCHLIST

The Human Trafficking Watchlist is the only data repository in existence that assists users in proactively identifying persons known or suspected to be involved with human trafficking.

Having access to this data is particularly crucial for our law enforcement partners in order to develop successful investigations.

ONLINE TRAINING

We are creating a series of new digital training tools for law enforcement, parents and guardians, and the general public to disperse the knowledge we have collected over years of fighting human trafficking.

TRAINING LAW ENFORCEMENT AT SCALE

DeliverFund's commitment to eradicating human trafficking still stretches beyond technology; it's also about empowering law enforcement and prosecutors with the knowledge and tools to be more effective in the fight. Our innovative in-person training programs for law enforcement have quickly become the industry standard, but they are still limited by the officers who can attend in the location where they are held. Between the vast geography of the US and the shift work required by police officers, we were not reaching everyone we needed to.

Now, thanks to the generosity of our donors, we have been able to scale our most essential training to an infinite number of law enforcement officers by making it available online.

This isn't just about awareness; it's about fostering a community of vigilant individuals. With your support, we're building a network of law enforcement officers armed with knowledge and fortified against trafficking threats.

DeliverFund's initiative to train members of the Human Trafficking Rescue Alliance in Houston, Texas, exemplifies a significant collaboration in the fight against human trafficking. This alliance, comprising various law enforcement agencies across Texas, demonstrates a collective effort to address and combat human trafficking effectively. The involvement of DeliverFund and the crucial support from donors highlight the importance of multi-faceted approaches and community involvement in tackling such complex and pervasive issues.

VICTIM-INFORMED TRAINING

DeliverFund is survivor-informed and uses data to do our part in the fight against human trafficking. For far too long, human trafficking victims have been viewed as criminals and further traumatized by the criminal justice system. Survivors of human trafficking have more to offer than just a re-telling of their trauma. DeliverFund offers victim-centric training to our partners. Survivors can draw from their lived experience to inform investigations and develop programs for people in law enforcement, health care, mental health care service providers, and more.

> ## IT HELPS PREVENT AND IT HELPS TO INTERVENE.
> - Elizabeth Quiroz, Author and Lived Experience Expert

At a recent live training in Texas, Elizabeth Quiroz, a survivor of human trafficking, shared her insights with law enforcement. This survivor-led session provided police with a direct and informed strategy for handling human trafficking cases.

"Explaining how to approach victims of human trafficking was so helpful. In my experience, this has proved most difficult and not the same as victims of other crimes."

ANALYSTS

From over-exposure by pre-processing and removing repetitive illicit content.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

By safeguarding their mental health from the aggregate of materials collected.

COMMUNITY

By informing and educaring individuals to empower them in the fight.

DELIVERFUND

ADVISING LAW ENFORCEMENT

Thanks to our donors, DeliverFund is adding Embedded Intelligence Analysts to law enforcement agencies to track and arrest traffickers.

Our Embedded Analysts provide timely and targeted assistance to local law enforcement with critical data and tactical leads. Donor funding allows us to implement these analyst positions, turning financial support into actionable results on the frontlines.

DeliverFund coordinates with police officers, detectives, prosecutors, federal agencies, sheriffs, and more. Our analysts fulfill Requests for Information (RFIs), deliver intelligence reports, and participate in sting operations.

DeliverFund, in close collaboration with law enforcement and with the unwavering support of our donors, is at the forefront of the battle against human trafficking.

We are making a lasting impact by advising, training, and equipping law enforcement.

Together, we stand united, determined to build a world without exploitation.

"After conducting human trafficking investigations for the past five years, I can say with certainty that the only effective way to uncover victims and arrest traffickers is to conduct proactive operations to utilize actionable reliable intelligence We actually accomplish this when DF assists in our proactive operations/investigations."

EDUCATING THE PUBLIC

DeliverFund has always worked to educate the public about the realities of Human Trafficking through our websites and social media accounts, but we realized we needed to do more to help people learn the realities of human trafficking and learn to dispel myths surrounding the issue. This last year, we launched the first of our online training programs designed to educate the public as to what human trafficking is and what they can do about it in their community. Starting with our Human Trafficking 101 course, DeliverFund's training curriculums will expand into multiple areas, helping everyone become part of the army that fights human trafficking.

The online training programs, produced by donor generosity, empowers individuals with the knowledge to identify and report potential trafficking situations, acting as a first line of defense in their communities. The training also fosters a proactive environment, where community members are more vigilant and responsive to the signs of trafficking, thereby potentially saving lives and preventing exploitation. Moreover, it helps dispel myths and stereotypes about victims, promoting a more accurate understanding of the diverse backgrounds and circumstances of those affected.

This knowledge will lead to more

HT SAFEGUARD

How do you screen for human trafficking in a definitive way?
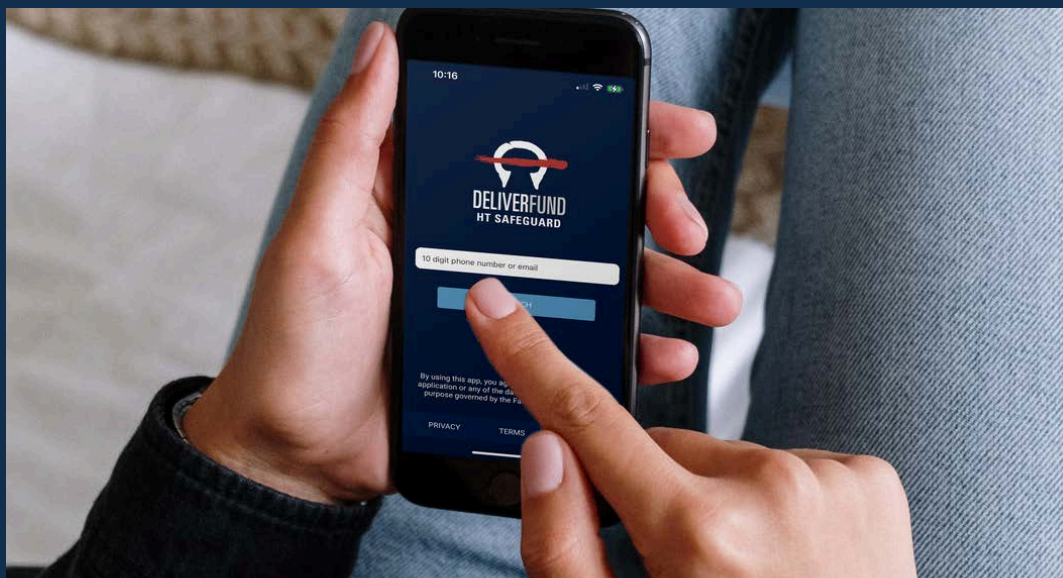

After engaging in the fight for over ten years, we know firsthand how hard it is, and that is why we created HT Safeguard.

Thanks to donor generosity, for the first time in history, anyone can easily and safely search a phone number or email address to see if they are associated with potential human trafficking activity.

Almost all human trafficking investigations start by searching to see if a phone number or email address is linked to a commercial sex advertisement. Confirming that contact information is linked to a commercial sex advertisement does not mean the owner of that contact information is a human trafficker, but it does mean that contact information is, or was at one time, linked to potential human trafficking information. While you can find this out in a few minutes by doing a customized Google search, that search will take you to a pornographic website where you can be exposed to graphic pictures and videos.
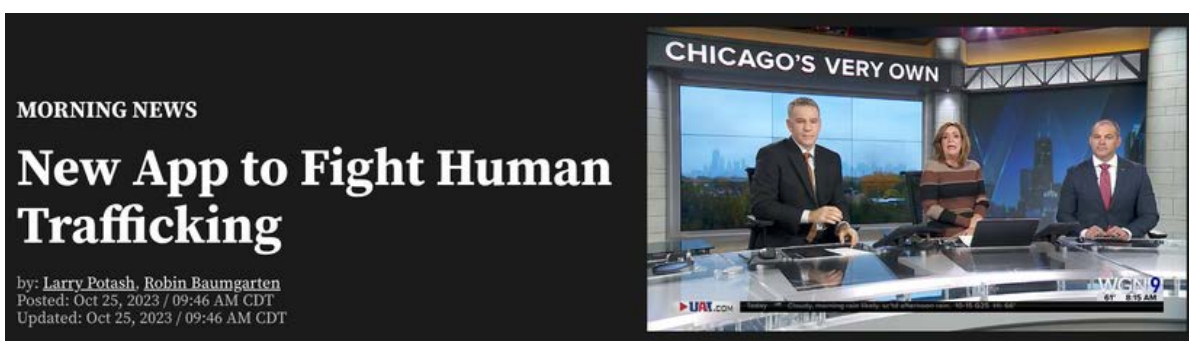

You and your children who have smartphones needed a better way to screen contact information for potential connections to human trafficking, so we built HT Safeguard. And we are just getting started with our efforts to empower public detection and the reporting of human trafficking activity.

CHARLIE MIKE: CONTINUE MISSION

"Charlie Mike" – in military radio parlance, this phrase stands for "Continue Mission." This ethos deeply resonates with the military and law enforcement veterans at DeliverFund, and for those who support out operations. For them, the conclusion of formal service marks not an end, but the dawn of a vital new mission: safeguarding society from its most insidious threats.
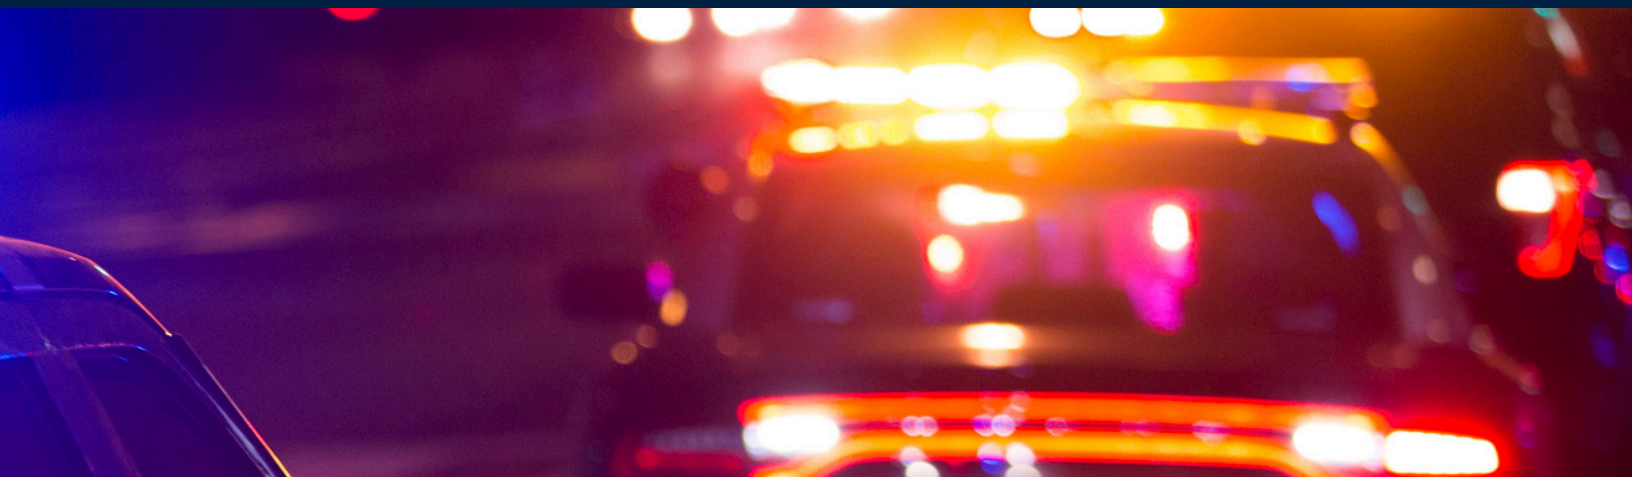

Transitioning from active service to civilian life often presents daunting challenges, particularly in the realm of mental health. The loss of a unifying purpose and mission, once a cornerstone of military and law enforcement lives, can leave a profound void. Many veterans find themselves compelled to leave their service roles due to family obligations or injuries, not by choice. This transition can lead to a sense of lost direction and diminished hope in finding a new, meaningful path.

This is where DeliverFund steps in, and where your invaluable support makes a transformative difference. Veterans possess unique and honed skills, perfectly suited to tracking and thwarting traffickers and other societal predators who pose threats to our community, especially our children. However, what they often lack are the financial resources necessary to procure the advanced technical tools that would enable them to fully apply and leverage these skills.

Through your generous donations, DeliverFund empowers these veterans, reigniting their sense of purpose by involving them in a critical mission: the protection of our society from those who would do us harm. Your contributions don't just fund tools and resources; they restore hope, purpose, and direction to the lives of those who have served us all.

Together, let us "Charlie Mike" – continue the mission. Your support is not just a donation; it's a lifeline to those who've dedicated their lives to our safety and a pledge to continue safeguarding our future.
